Safety patches little C3 August released as Miui 12.5 frames. Download Below. ã. Xiaomi took global dimensions with the Miui 12.5 Rollout, after limiting the update for Chinese users. So far, only the flagship Xiaomi me 11 has received the update, but the limited rollout as always. However, WONA T be long up multiple devices supports the upgrade between globally, the little C3. Yes, the device is suitable for MIUI 12. 5 and Android 11 and could receive both updates simultaneously. Unfortunately, the current Sans update is to build, as Xiaomi prepares the device for upgrading with the April Update.The security patch Weighs 308MB. It shows the security level of Android for April 2021 to increase the security of the system and the stability. The update has made some changes in Xiaomi cloud, location information can now reported automatically before the device is powered off. Å ¢ Å, Å, as usual, ita is limited SA Rollout, which only means a handful of Devices will receive the build for the preview. And at the end, if everything is regular, Public Rollout will start, but you can manually install through the link below. But most of the time, returns a mistake, but youÅ ¢ I would be if you have a beta account authorized. Of course, it is possible to update the Roma successfully with a TWRP Recovery compatible. However, it is therefore advisable to wait for more information before installing the protection update patch shortly C3 April. The new updates are added to the bottomÅ ¢ | .. Original history (from November 30, 2020) follows: little is now an independent smartphone brand and is no more than Xiaomi, so to say. Of course, like other sub-brands that continued to become an independence ¢ Å, just probably continue to use some of the XiaomiÅ ¢ s services. Distribution channels, distribution, Support, and software (MIUI) are just some of the things that should little should continue to borrow from Xiaomi for the foreseeable future. TAP / Click to view (source) We know that the company will soon launch the community forum of little, but what remains unclear is if it will not vollaage if little will turn its shoulders on the Xiaomi software update policy in favor of An internal policy. Xiaomi is known for no more than two updates of the Android operating system to its devices. Given the kind of fan of little, it would be a welcome idea if little is gone with a different software update policy, even if better. Three Android operating system updates would be more than ideal. Throws at least three MIUI updates and regular security updates in the mix and are good at leaving. But hey, we don't take the rules. For now, at least if the little F1 is something to do, we can expect two updates of the Android operating system. But then again, this may not be true for all the little devices, especially the entry-level models. Little F1 obtained 2 updates of the Android operating system in fact, this could only be the case for the little X3. According to the company, buyers of the little X3 can be insured that Android 11 update is coming, but there is no similar guarantee compared to Android 12. There is also no guarantee of other little devices, but the update policy Software what we can say is that in addition to the little F1, all unwanted devices will receive the update to Android 11. So far, the little F2 Pro has already stuffed the stable version. The little X2, on the other hand, is publicly testing Android 11 on its Chinese variant nicknamed Redmi K30 4G. Little X2 AKA Redmi K30 4G There are also reports that Android 11 internal tests are in progress for the little X3 NFC, little M3 and little M2, which implies that public beta tests for the trio are not far away.
